A WICKED SPIRIT.

The independent or mugwump press of New York is in a wretched condition. Its spirit is one of evil. It does not want to be fair and under no circumstances will it be fair. If it can do any of the republican leaders harm, it will not stop at the means by which that harm can be accomplished. Speaking about the late Postmaster Pearson, of New York, Mr. George William Curtis, representing the mugwump element, says:

He stood firmly for the honest service of the people; his opponents for their own selfish power. Unsustained by those who meant to force him to retire, dogged by the emissaries, seeking plausible pretexts for his removal, he resolved if his life were granted, not to yield, and for many a month he silently fought the good fight while his life surely ebbed away. Those who without the responsibilities of office advocate reform upon what they believe to be sound and simple principles may be easily condemned as sentimentalists and theorists.

There is no truth in this statement. Everybody knows that Mr. Pearson had his own way in the management of the New York office. Neither during Arthur's or Cleveland's administration was he hampered in the least. President Harrison did not intend to reappoint him when his time expired in March, for the good and sufficient reason that his health had become so poor that it materially interfered with the management of the postoffice. The mugwumps then set up a howl and charged that the reason Harrison would not reappoint Pearson was because the president was under the influence of the machine in politics. But they had not ceased their howling when Mr. Pearson died of a cancer! But even this fact did not make the mugwumps blush with shame.

Then the independent press of New York got its foot into it again. It began, with one accord, to charge that Bishop Potter, in his centennial oration, intended to criticise the present administration for being partisan in spirit. But when Bishop Potter saw the wicked intent of the mugwump press and its glaring misrepresentations, he kindly informed the mugwumps that he not only did not criticise President Harrison, but did not say a word that would reflect in anywise on the president of the United States.

One would suppose that after these exposures, the New York mugwumps would want to crawl into some dark hole and pull the hole in after them, that they might not be any more seen of men. But there does not appear to be any shame in the New York mugwumps. They will now go to work to invent some other misrepresentation.

VERY WELL, THANK YOU.

A few days ago the democratic papers started a report that Blaine was not well. Then the telegram came from Washington that Blaine was very well. Hence these comments:

New York Press: No: Mr. Blaine has not had a stroke of paralysis. It is the democrats who will get the paralysis when he speaks in the next campaign.

Peoria Transcript: It is very evident that the democratic newspapers are afraid Mr. Blaine is not so sick as he has been represented to be.

Burlington Hawkeye: The centennial festivities seem to have diverted the attention of the democrats and mugwumps from the great problem of whether Blaine rules Harrison or Harrison has his own way about things.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Secretary Blaine is not paralyzed, and those who don't want to be had better let him alone.

It seems that swindlers, who work among the farmers, are always in the land. A new scheme to get money of the honest and unsuspecting farmer is reported from Fredonia, Iowa, as follows: Two men called on John Barker, a well-to-do farmer living near the place, on the pretext of desiring to purchase his farm. After some parleying a contract was drawn, the strangers agreeing to purchase the premises for $9,000. Then a third party appeared on the scene and offered $13,000 for the farm, whereupon the parties of the first part agreed to throw up their bargain if Barker would divide the difference with them. This he agreed to do, and the entire party went to town, where Mr. Barker drew $2,000 from the bank and handed it over to them. The third man said he must go to Muscatine to draw the money, and agreed to return the next day to complete the bargain. At last accounts Mr. Barker was still occupying the old place, with an enlarged fund of experience and a diminished bank account.

The Cincinnati Enquirer claims that George W. Allen, of New Albany, Indiana, is the man who is entitled to the credit of organizing the homestead law. He began an agitation in its favor fifty years ago, and through the newspapers and in correspondence with public men kept untiringly at work until measure passed congress. He was in early life a printer by trade, and is now eighty years old, poor, and almost friendless. He lives in an old tumbled-down frame house, in which there is but one single room fit for habitation, which he occupies, and is in constant dread of being taken to the poor house.

Mr. H. N. Hempsted, the well known music dealer of Milwaukee, has failed in business and will not likely resume business. Attachments against him to the amount of some $15,000 were filed. Mr. Hempsted has had a varied career. He has been a resident of Milwaukee for nearly forty years, and at one time was in a prosperous condition. During the war he composed many pieces of music that became very popular. But there is a certain weakness in some men that always combats success, and sooner or later it wins in the contest.

The Canadian legislature has decided to economize by dispensing with the services of a chaplain, whose salary is $400 a year; but it has sternly refused to discharge the stately usher of the black rod who draws a trifle of $1,350 a year. This is a fair sample of the wisdom of Canadian legislators. But after all, one blunder can be excused. The passage of the bill to put an end to Canada being a refuge for American defaulters, thieves and boodlers will hide a multitude of short comings.

James A. Spellman, a colored man from Mississippi, was appointed Saturday as a special agent to investigate timber depredations in the General Land Office. This is the first selection of a colored man for office by the present administration. The position to which Mr. Spellman has been called is an important one, and requires a thorough knowledge of matters relating to the general land office. The colored people are pleased at Spellman's appointment. Mr. Spellman is a bright man and well educated.

In Senator Ingalls' opinion there will be an extra session of congress called next fall, probably about the middle of October. He thinks this course judicious, with a view to organizing the house of representatives and getting legislation in shape before the holiday recess.

The Chicago Mail says that there are some people in that city who don't know whether this is a republic or a hole in the ground. One would suppose so, judging from the last election in that town.

Agony is Courted.

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglected to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

WHITE CAPS IN LOUISIANA.

Efforts of a Ring to Drive Away a Man Who Knows Too Much.

NATCHITOCHES, La., May 6.—The White Caps have appeared in this parish again. Saturday night nine men visited the house of William A. Jones and gave him ten days to leave the parish, and on Monday one of the clan came to a field where Jones was at work and read a note to him ordering him to leave under penalty of death. Some of the signers of the warning are well known. Some time ago Jones was asked to join the clan to drive a man named Weldon from the parish. He was told the names of the parties, but refused to join them. He thinks they wish to get rid of him because he knows their secrets. Prompt measures will be taken to uphold the law and punish the self-constituted regulators. They are known as the "Santa Clause ring."

An Extraordinary Phenomena.

No other term than the above would apply to the woman who could see her youthful beauty fading away without a pang of regret. Many a woman becomes prematurely old and haggard because of functional derangement. What a pity that all such do not know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore their organs to a normal state, and make them youthful and beautiful once more! For the ills to which the daughters of Eve are peculiarly liable the "Prescription" is a sovereign remedy. It is the only medicine sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be returned. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

ILLINOIS AND INDIANA CROPS.

MATTOON, Ill., May 6.—The dry weather is causing wheat to head out a month earlier than usual, and the prospect for a good crop is flattering. Heavy frosts during the past week have caused fruit growers to fear that much damage has been done, but the weather has been quite dry for several weeks and the frost has had little effect upon vegetation except tender blossoms. One strawberry grower claims that three-fourths of his crop is killed. Cherries are also injured, but peaches are too far advanced to be injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May .—Reports from different sections of the State indicate that the frosts last night was the worst of the season, and in many localities the fruit was badly damaged, if not all killed. In and near this city the garden products were badly frosted. The grape crop was injured and the cherries and peaches more or less hurt. Water left exposed in open vessels had a slight skim of ice upon it this morning, and it is generally believed that the smaller fruits are so damaged that they will fall off before ripening.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 6.—A severe frost last night completely destroyed the peach crop and grapes and seriously injured apples and small fruits in eastern Illinois. Ice a quarter of an inch thick was formed.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 6.—All the strawberries, cherries, and early vegetables in this vicinity were killed by the heavy frost of last night.

LEBANON, Ind., May 6.—A severe frost last night spoiled the prospects for the fruit crop in this section of the country. Early gardens and growing crops were heavily damaged.

CENTRALIA, Ill., May 6.—The heavy frost last night was quite injurious to the coming strawberry crop. One half of the berries in blossom—or about one-fourth of the entire crop—were destroyed.

Poor Crop Weather in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 6.—The signal-service station here reports that the weather for the last week has retarded vegetation. The temperature has been below the normal in all portions of the State, with frequent heavy frosts, but no damage is reported except from the counties of Harrison, Shelby, Union, Mills, and Kossuth, where it is feared the fruit crop is seriously injured. There has been no rainfall during the week, and crops in general need moisture. The ground is in fine condition for corn planting.

FATAL RAILWAY COLLISION.

Bad Smashup on the Northern Pacific Near Crystal Springs, D. T.

BISMARCK, D. T., May 6.—The Pacific express on the Northern Pacific collided with a heavily loaded freight train near Crystal Springs Sunday. W. A. Boss, engineer of the passenger locomotive and W. D. Slater, a mail agent, who was making his last trip, were killed, and N. D. Evans and C. M. Lounsberry, mail agents, were seriously injured. Both trains were descending grades at full speed and met at the bottom. Neither engineer saw the other until they were within 600 feet of each other, when it was too late to avoid a collision. All they could do was to reverse their engines and jump for their lives. Both engines and the baggage and mail cars of the passenger train were wrecked, all the freight cars were thrown from the track, and three carloads of horses were killed. No passengers were hurt. The accident was caused by a misunderstanding of orders on the part of the freight conductor and engineer. Engineer Boss, who was killed, was to have been married in a few days to a young lady of Jamestown. When told of his death she fainted away, and is now in a critical condition.

BIG FIRE AT LA PORTE.

The Washington Ice Company of Chicago Suffers Heavy Loss.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 6.—The tool house of the Washington Ice company at Stone Lake, near La Porte, Ind., caught fire at an earley hour this morning. In the tool house was a quantity of explosives, and when the fire reached them they exploded, causing the burning of sixteen ice houses, 26,000 tons of ice, and twenty Lake Shore freight cars were destroyed also. The loss is estimated at $63,000, with $8,500 insurance in Laporte agencies. The company's offices are in Chicago, and it is supposed additional insurance is held in that city. Charles Ohles, son of the superintendent, is, it is feared, fatally burned.

Ran Into a Freight.

ASHLAND, Wis., May 6.—A bad collision occurred on the Wisconsin Central road, near High Bridge, eighteen miles south of here Sunday. A passenger train collided with the rear end of a freight train, which had backed off the switch. The engine was demolished, but no one was hurt.

A MAD FATHER'S FRENZY.

HIS INNOCENT BABE THE VICTIM OF HIS INSANITY.

CHICAGO, May 6.—William Tansor, in a fit of insane frenzy, brained his 6-month-old baby by knocking its head against a wall, and then attempted to cut his own throat with a table-knife. His young wife fled the house in terror, and is now grief-stricken.

Mrs. Tansor, with her little babe on her arm, was walking back and forth in the small yard in front of their house, in the rear of 178 Cornell street, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when her husband, who had gone to work in a machine-shop, as usual, early in the morning, leaped over the back fence and rushed toward her.

"Look at them coming! See! They follow!" he yelled, pointing over his shoulder at imaginary pursuers. He continued to rave about bushy-whiskered men who wanted to kill him because he was an Anarchist, and the woman saw in a moment that her husband had gone crazy. His appearance corresponded with his words, and in his right hand he was holding a pocket-knife with the blade extended.

"Be quiet, Will," she said, "be quiet and I'll protect you. Be quiet for my sake, for our baby's sake."

Gradually his features and his eyes grew less wild. She soon persuaded him to put up the knife, and succeded in leading him into the house. He sat quietly in a rocking chair while she made ready the supper, and partook of the meal without showing another sign of insanity. However, about 8 o'clock he suddenly leaped to his feet, seized a knife that was lying on the table, and stood as if ready to fight with demons. Again his wife soothed him, but she could not get him to take a seat, and at his suggestion they visited a police station, Tansor saying that men were following him about and that he wanted protection. The sergeant wanted to lock the insane man up, but Mrs Tansor would not listen to it, saying that he was harmless. So the sergeant told Tansor that he would be protected, and the insane man went home with his wife. He slept very quietly by her side until 3 o'clock in the morning; then he leaped to his feet and stared wildly into the darkness.

She was awakened and tried to get out of bed, but the crazy man caught her by the throat.

"You are with the rest of them," he yelled; "you are against me, too. You want to see me crucified. I will kill you, now, while I have the chance; I will kill the baby."

The frightened woman threw herself over the crib and tried to save her baby, but the madman pushed her aside and caught up the infant; while the mother shrieked in agony he beat out its brains against the wall.

Then he grabbed a knife and started for his wife, but she saved herself by rushing down the stairs and outdoors. She screamed for help and men and women ran from all the houses in the neighborhood and gathered about her. Some one called the patrol wagon and half a dozen officers soon arrived and entered the room where Tansor was walking back and forth. Upon one of his arms was the horribly mutilated corpse of the infant. Tightly grasped in his other hand was a bloody butcher-knife. The blood was flowing from a wound in his neck, which he had inflicted in a vain attempt at self-murder. When he saw the officers the crazy man flung the knife back of the stove in the corner.

"There!" he said, "it is well done. I have battled with the demons. I have saved my life!"

He was taken to the county hospital after the wound in his neck had been stitched. The cut in his neck will soon heal, but the physicians fear his reason is forever gone. There is danger that his wife, too, will become insane.

Tansor has been married a year and a half. He is 26 years old, and his wife is three years younger. As a single man he was much given to drink, but since his marriage he has been a steady and industrious workman. He was intoxicated on centennial day and that night his wife first noticed that his mind was wandering.

A TENNESSEE MAYOR SHOT.

A Covington Official Shot by a Negro Whom He Was Trying to Arrest.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 6.—A tragedy occurred near Covington, Tipton county, Tenn., last night, which resulted in the killing of W. T. Douglass, Mayor of that city. It seems a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Henry Donaldson, a negro who was charged with attempted assault on a white woman. Mayor Douglass was one of a posse of ten men who went to the negro's house to effect his arrest. They found his cabin closed and called upon him to open the door. Receiving no answer they gave warning that unless the door was opened they would break it down, at the same time informing him that they had a warrant for his arrest. Just at this juncture a gun was thrust through the door and discharged by the negro. The contents struck Douglass, who was in front, killing him instantly. The posse immediately retreated and Donaldson succeeded in making his escape. He is still at large.

Mayor Douglass was very popular. He was about 27 years of age and leaves a wife to mourn his sudden death.

MURDERED ON THE HIGHWAY.

GALENA, Ill., May 6.—Prof. H. T. Matchett, one of the best known educators in this section, and the founder and principal of the academy at Hanover, this county, was assassinated Sunday by George Skene, son of Supervisor William Skene. Prof. Matchett was returning in his buggy from a small town where he had been conducting a Sabbath school, and had just reached a turn in the road when Skene stepped in front of him and shot him. Henry Prist, who was also in the vehicle, was wounded in the arm by a second shot from the revolver. The murderer after firing the shots coolly placed the smoking weapon in his pocket and disappeared in the woods, where is now supposed to be hiding.

Prof. Matchett had objected to Skene's attentions to his sister and this is supposed to have been the cause of the murder. Intense excitement and indignation prevails and if the assassin is captured he is likely to be lynched.

Charged With Using Township Funds.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 6.—Charges were filed Saturday against Phillip Spiegel, township trustee of this township, by Al Oberly, to the effect that Spiegel had issued orders to fictitious persons and also to persons to whom he was indebted individually to pay his private bills out of the township funds. Some irregularities have already been found. Spiegel makes counter charges against Oberly, charging him with getting these orders by false pretenses. The amounts involved are large.

FATAL RIOT IN NEW JERSEY.

Two Men Killed in a Fight Between Railroad Men and Laborers.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 6.—Saturday night and Sunday morning a fatal riot occurred at the Sayerville brick yards, five miles below this city. Agent E. P. Hendrickson, with 100 men, started Saturday night to put in a spur from the main line of the Raritan River railroad across the land of ex-Freeholder Edward Furman down through the brick yards to William F. Fisher's yard. Furman was opposed to their crossing his land and called out his men. The railroad men were reinforced by brick yard men favorable to the railroad until 500 men were in the fight by midnight. Furman's men attacked the railroaders and burned the ties and other materials. Pistols, clubs, and stones were freely used. George Kissinger, one of Furman's laborers, was killed outright. He was knocked down with a club and a sharp pointed crowbar driven through his head. John Kennedy, a railroad man from South Amboy, was so badly injured that he died in an hour.

At 9 o'clock Sunday morning Sheriff Fick of Middlesex county called out a posse of fifty men and went to the scene. When they reached the place all was quiet and the railroad men had stopped to recruit their force.

The Raritan River railroad is a new enterprise running from South Amboy to Round Brook. Gen. E. T. Ripley of New York is president. Furman complains that the company is crossing his land without his consent, which the company claims he had given.

Since then all has been quiet, but the railroad men, who are encamped in the woods near the disputed spot, are being heavily reinforced from all along the line and trouble is expected, as both parties are determined.

Killed While Trying to Make Peace.

PORT HURON, Mich., May 6.—Harry Axworthy, an employe in James Spry's batting works, was murdered Saturday night by Otto Sandburg. Spry and Sandburg engaged in a quarrel, and Axworthy undertook to separate them, when Sandburg plunged a knife blade into his skull, producing a fatal wound. Sandburg was arrested. He belongs to one of the best families in town.

Convicted of Murder.

BENTON, Ill., May 6.—The Williams murder trial ended here Saturday, the jury finding the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree and sentencing him to the penitentiary for fifteen years. The verdict meets with general approval here.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Justice Gray's Wedding Expected to Take Place May 15—Other Matters.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—As the time for the adjournment of the United States Supreme court on May 11 draws near the fashionable society of Washington shows more and more interest in the marriage of Justice Gray to Miss Jeannette Matthews. It is understood that Wednesday, May 15, has been selected for the ceremony.

Chief Justice Fuller, after an extended search for a house, has purchased the large double red brick on the corner of Fourteenth and M streets owned by Judge Wylie. The house faces Thomas circle, is in the fashionable quarter of the city, and is one of the handsomest and most attractive places in the city, although it is old-fashioned in architecture. The present residence of the Chief Justice is a leased house, located across the city limits, and has been very unsatisfactory to the family ever since they took possession of it.

Mr. Edward O. Graves, Superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, who has handed in his resignation to take effect upon the appointment of his successor, is at present in Washington Territory closing arrangements to enter the banking business at Seattle as soon as it may please President Harrison to relieve him of his present responsibilities. It is said that Mr. Graves will be president of the new bank, and that among others who will be associated with him will be Mr. W. [illegible] Hill of Seattle, a large real estate owner, who has considerable property in this city. Mr. Hill is credited with being the wealthiest man in Washington Territory and will give the new enterprise his moral as well as financial assistance. He came from Centerfield, Ind., where his father lives now.

All the Western railroads have been summoned to appear before the inter-state commerce commision Tuesday and explain the mysteries of commissions paid on the sale of tickets. Among the first to arrive in Washington is Gen. John McNulta, general manager and receiver of the Wabash system, who is registered at the Ebbitt. Every Western railroad will be represented at the hearing.

THE FRENCH CENTENARY.

PARIS, May 6.—A man who gives the name of Perrin, and who says he is a marine storekeeper, fired a blank cartridge at President Carnot Sunday when the latter was leaving the Elysee palace to attend the centenary celebration at Versailles. Perrin was promptly arrested. He declared that he had no desire to kill the President, but merely wished to expose the fact that he (Perrin) was the victim of an injustice. The crowd that had gathered in the neighborhood of the Elysee to witness the departure of the President became greatly excited and threatened to lynch the prisoner. The police, however, gathered in force and drove back the indignant citizens.

President Carnot and party proceeded to Versailles, where the President inaugurated the memorial tablet affixed to the building in which the states-general met one hundred years ago. The President and his escort then repaired to the hall of mirrors in the palace, where M. Le Boyer delivered an address of welcome to the President. President Carnot, in his reply, said:

"The revolution was based upon the rights of man. It created a new era in history and founded modern society. After many cruel shocks France has finally broke with the personal power of one man, whatever title he may take. She now recognizes as sole sovereign the law enacted by the representatives of the nation."

Dispatches from the various European capitals say that the French residents have observed the day with banquets and receptions.

Big Fire in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, May 6, 1 a. m.—The biggest fire in the history of this city, is now raiging and threatens to destroy a large portion of the business houses. Already ten or twelve establishments, including two hotels and the Jewish synagogue, have been destroyed.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Att., Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all Malarial Diseases and for all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1 at F. Sherer & Co's Drugstore.

The Sioux Ready to Sign.

PIERRE, D. T., May 6.—Recent reports from Cheyenne confirm the rumors that the Sioux Indians in council decided to accept the terms of the treaty. Several Indians have already taken lands on the reservation opposite Pierre under the severalty act, and it looks as if the treaty would be signed as soon as the commissioners arrive. Surveyors will start on May 15 to make a survey through the reservation in the Black hills for the Midland & Pacific, which is thought to be backed by the Illinois Central railway.

An Old Soldier Murdered.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 6.—Jacob Morgan, an old Union soldier residing in the Pleasant Valley district, was found murdered. His body was horribly mutilated, and there were signs of desperate encounter, his pension money, amounting to $1,600, having been taken from him. His young wife and a neighbor, with whom she was in love, were arrested, and have confessed the crime. They wanted the old man out of the way so they could marry.

Knocked Senseless in a Fight.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 6.—A prize fight with skin gloves for $100 a side took place in the outskirts of the city, at daylight, between Joe Martin and William Barnes, local pugilists. Both men fought desperately, and in the eleventh round Barnes was knocked senseless. He fell like a log, and it was fifteen minules before he came to. About 200 sports witnessed the mill.

WISCONSIN FOREST FIRES.

Dry Weather Makes the Timber Easy Prey for Flames.

WAUSAU, Wis., May 6.—The very dry weather experienced here for a week past has started up forest fires again. Huge volumes of smoke can be seen in almost any direction. Much damage will be the result if rain is not had very soon. The Wisconsin river is very low, and hope of getting the logs down this spring to the different mills is about given up. But very little work is being done on the drives.

Wisconsin Wool Growers.

CALDWELL, Wis., May 6.—The second day of the festival of the Southwestern Wisconsin Wool Growers' association was marked by a large attendance of persons interested in wool growing and a remarkably large and fine exhibition of sheep and machinery in which breeders are interested. This afternoon the shearing contest took place. The prize for the finest fleece was awarded to Isaac Harland of Mukwonago. It weighed twenty-five pounds, the carcass weighing 115 pounds, the age of the animal being 11½ months.

CURED AFTER THIRTY-TWO YEARS.

MILWAUKEE, May 25, 1887.

REV. FATHER KOENIG:—I am personally acquainted with a man who (in the year 1878, then forty-four years of age) commenced to take your medicine for epilepsy, which he had had for thirty-two years. The attacks which he had formerly every four weeks diminished as soon as he took your medicine and disappeared entirely since August, 1880. The man is so healthy now that he can attend to his business without fear. By this wonderful cure a large family has been made happy, and of this he is convinced and gladly testifies.

REV. PATER AEGIDIUS.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

THE BROOKLYN PREACHER RECALLS REMINISCENCES.

The Memories of the Past Resurrected to Furnish Food for Thoughtful Reflection—The Consolation of the Almighty in Times of Affliction.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 6.—At the Tabernacle Sunday the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D.D., preached a sermon on the subject "Other Days Lived Over." The vast congregation sang the hymn beginning:

"Our God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come."

Dr. Talmage's text was Deuteronomy, viii., 2: "Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee." He said:

Before entering my subject I wish to say that some newspaper correspondents, referring to a recent sermon in which I welcomed foreign nationalities to this country, have said that I advocated as a desirable thing the intermarriage of the white and black races. I never said so, I never thought so, and any one who so misrepresents that sermon is either a villain or a fool, perhaps both.

But to open this morning's subject I have to say God in the text advises the people to look back upon their past history. It will do us all good to rehearse the scenes between this May morning and our cradle, whether it was rocked in country or town. A few days ago, with my sister and brother, I visited the place of my boyhood. It was one of the most emotional and absorbing days of my life. There stands the old house, and as I went through the rooms I said: "I could find my way here with my eyes shut, although I have not been here for forty years." There was a sitting-room where a large family group every evening gathered, the most of them now in a better world. There was a large barn where we hunted for Easter eggs, and the place where the horse stood. There is where the orchard was, only three or four trees now left of all the grove that once bore apples, and such apples, too. There is the brook down which we rode to the watering of the horses bareback and with a rope halter. We also visited the cemetery, where many of our kindred are waiting for the resurrection, the old people side by side, after a journey together of sixty years, only about three years between the time of their going. There also sleep the dear old neighbors who used to tie their horses under the shed of the country meeting house and sit at the end of the pew singing "Duke Street," and "Balerma," and "Antioch." Oh, they were a glorious race of men and women, who did their work well, raised a splendid lot of boys and girls, and are now as to their bodies in silent neighborhood on earth, but as to their souls in jubilant neighborhood before the throne of God. I feel that my journey and visit last week did me good, and it would do you all good, if not in person then in thought, to revisit the scenes of boyhood and girlhood. "Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee."

Youth is apt too much to spend all its time in looking forward. Old age is apt too much to spend all its time in looking backward. People in mid-life and on the apex look both ways. It would be well for us, I think, however, to spend more time in reminiscence. By the constitution of our nature we spend most of the time looking forward, and the vast majority of this audience live not so much in the present as in the future. I find that you mean to make a reputation, you mean to establish yourself, and the advantages that you expect to achieve absorb a great deal of your time. But I see no harm in this if it does not make you discontented with the present or disqualify you for existing duties.

It is a useful thing sometimes to look back, and to see the dangers we have escaped, and to see the sorrows we have suffered, and the trials and wanderings of our earthly pilgrimage, and sum up our enjoyments. I mean this morning, so far as God will help me, to stir up your memory of the past, so that in the review you may be encouraged, and humbled, and urged to pray.

There is a chapel in Florence with a fresco by Guido. It was covered up with two inches of stucco until our American and Eropean artists went there, and after long toil removed the covering and retraced the fresco. And I am aware that the memory of the past, with many of you, is all covered up with 10,000 obliterations, and I propose this morning, so far as the Lord will help me, to take away the coverings, that the old picture may shine out again.

I want to bind in one sheaf all your past advantages, and I want to bind in another sheaf all your past adversities. It is a precious harvest, and I must be cautious how I swing the scythe.

Among the greatest advantages of your past life was an early home and its surroundings. The bad men of the day, for the most part, dip their heated passions out of the boiling spring of an unhappy home. We are not surprised to find that Byron's heart was a concentration of sin when we hear his mother was abandoned, and that she made sport of his infirmity, and often called him "the lame brat." He who has vicious parents has to fight every inch of his way if he would maintain his integrity and at last reach the home of the good in heaven.

Perhaps your early home was in the city. It may have been in the days when Canal street, New York, was far up-town and the site of this present church was an excursion out into the country. That old house in the city may have been demolished and changed into stores, and it seemed like sacrilege to you, for there was more meaning in that plain house than there is in a granite mansion or a turreted cathedral. Looking back this morning you see it as though it were yesterday. The sitting room, where the loved ones sat by the plain lamplight, the mother at the evening stand, the brothers and sisters, perhaps long ago gathered into the skies, then plotting mischief on the floor or under the table, your father with a firm voice commanding a silence that lasted half a minute.

Oh, those were good days! If you had your foot hurt, your mother always had a soothing salve to heal it. If you were wronged in the street, your father was always ready to protect you. The year was one round of frolic and mirth. Your greatest trouble was like an April shower—more sunshine than showers. The heart had not been ransacked by troubles, nor had sickness broken it, and no lamb had a warmer sheepfold than the home in which your childhood nestled.

Perhaps you were brought up in the country. You stand now to-day in memory under the old tree. You clubbed it for fruit that was not quite ripe because you couldn't wait any longer. You hear the brook rumbling along over the pebbles. You step into the furrow where your father in his shirt sleeves shouted to the lazy oxen. You frighten the swallows from the rafters of the barn, and take just one egg, and silence your conscience by saying they won't miss it. You take a drink again out of the very bucket that the old well fetched up. You go for the cows at night and find them wagging their heads through the bars. Ofttimes in the dusty and busy streets you wish you were home again on that cool grass, or in the rag-carpeted hall of the farm house, through which there was the breath of new-mown hay or the blossom of buckwheat.

You may have in your windows now beautiful plants and flowers brought from across the seas, but not one of them stirs in your soul so much charm and memory as the old ivy and the yellow sunflower that stood sentinel along the garden wall and the forget-me-nots playing hide-and-seek 'mid the long grass. The father, who used to come in sunburnt from the fields and sit down on the door-sill and wipe the sweat from his brow, may have gone to his everlasting rest. The mother, who used to sit at the door a little bent over, cap and spectacles on, her face mellowing with the vicissitudes of many years, may have put down her gray head on the pillow in the valley, but forget that home you never will. Have you thanked God for it? Have you rehearsed all these reminiscences? Oh, thank God for a Christian father; thank God for a Christian mother; thank God for an early Christian altar at which you were taught to kneel; thank God for an early Christian home.

I bring to mind another passage in the history of your life. The day came when you set up your own household. The days passed along in quiet blessedness. You twain sat at the table morning and night and talked over your plans for the future. The most insignificant affair in your life became the subject of mutual consultation and advisement. You were so happy you felt you never could be any happier. One day a dark cloud hovered over your dwelling and it got darker and darker, but out of that cloud the shining messenger of God descended to incarnate an immortal spirit. Two little feet started on an eternal journey, and you were to lead them—a gem to flash in heaven's coronet, and you to polish it; eternal ages of light and darkness watching the starting out of a newly created creature.

You rejoiced and you trembled at the responsibility that in your possession an immortal treasure was placed. You prayed and rejoiced, and wept and wondered; you were earnest in supplication that you might lead it through life into the kingdom of God. There was a tremor in your earnestness. There was a double interest about that home. There was an additional interest why you should stay there and be faithful, and when in a few months your house was filled with the music of the child's laughter, you were struck through with the fact that you had a stupendous mission.

Have you kept that vow? Have you neglected any of those duties? Is your home as much to you as it used to be? Have those anticipations been gratified? God help you to-day in your solemn reminiscence and let His mercy fall upon your soul if your kindness has been ill-requited. God have mercy on the parent on the wrinkles of whose face is written the story of a child's sin. God have mercy on the mother who, in addition to her other pangs, has the pangs of a child's iniquity. Oh, there are many, many sad sounds in this sad world, but the saddest sound that is ever heard is the breaking of a mother's heart. Are there any here who remember that in that home they were unfaithful? Are there those who wandered off from that early home and left the mother to die with a broken heart? Oh, I stir that reminiscence to-day.

I find another point in your life history. You found one day you were in the wrong road; you couldn't sleep at night; there was just one word that seemed to sob through your banking house, or through your office, or through your shop, or your bedroom, and that word was "Eternity." You said: "I am not ready for it. O God, have mercy." The Lord heard. Peace came to your heart. In the breath of the hill and the waterfall's dash you heard the voice of God's love; the clouds and the trees hailed you with gladness; you came into the house of God.

You remember how your hand trembled as you took up the cup of the communion. You remember the old minister who consecrated it, and you remember the church officials who carried it through the aisle; you remember the old people who at the close of the service took your hand in theirs in congratulating sympathy, as much as to say, "Welcome home, you lost prodigal;" and though those hands are all withered away, that communion Sabbath is resurrected this morning; it is resurrected with all its prayers, and songs, and tears, and sermons, and transfiguration. Have you kept those vows? Have you been a backslider? God help you. This day kneel at the foot of mercy and start again for heaven. Start to-day as you started then. I rouse your soul by that reminiscence.

But I must not spend any more of my time in going over the advantages of your life. I just put them all in one great sheaf and I wrap them up in your memory with one loud harvest song, such as the reapers sing. Praise the Lord, ye blood-bought immortals of earth! Praise the Lord, ye crowned spirits of heaven.

But some of you have not always had a smooth life. Some of you are now in the shadow. Others had their troubles years ago; you are a mere wreck of what you once were. I must gather up the sorrows of your past life; but how shall I do it? You say that is impossible, as you have had so many troubles and adversities. Then I will just take two, the first trouble and the last trouble. As when you are walking along the street, and there has been music in the distance, you unconsciously find yourself keeping step to the music, so when you started life your very life was a musical time-beat. The air was full of joy and hilarity; with the bright, clear oar you made the boat skip; you went on and life grew brighter until after awhile suddenly a voice from heaven said, "Halt!" and quick as the sunshine you halted; you grew pale; you confronted your first sorrow. You had no idea that the flush on your child's cheek was an unhealthy flush. You said it can't be anything serious Death in slippered feet walked round about the cradle. You did not hear the tread, but after awhile the truth flashed on you. You walked the floor. Oh, if you could, with your strong, stout hand, have wrenched that child from the destroyer! You went to your room and said: "God, save my child!" The world seemed going out into darkness. You said: "I can't bear it! I can't bear it!" You felt as if you could not put the long lashes over the bright eyes, never to see them again sparkle. Oh, if you could have taken that little one in your arms and with it leaped the grave how gladly would you have done it! Oh, if you could let your property go, your land and your storehouse go, how gladly would you have allowed them to depart if you could only have kept that one treasure.

But one day there arose from the heavens a chill blast that swept over the bedroom, and instantly all the light went out, and there was darkness—thick, murky, impenetrable, shuddering darkness. But God didn't leave you there. Mercy spoke. As you took up the cup and was about to put it to your lips, God said, "Let it pass," and forthwith, as by the hand of angels, another cup was put into your hands; it was the cup of God's consolation. And as you have sometimes lifted the head of a wounded soldier and poured wine into his lips, so God put His left arm under your head and with His right hand He poured into your lips the wine of his comfort and his consolation, and you looked at the empty cradle and looked at your broken heart, and you looked at the Lord's chastisement, and you said: "Even so, Father, for so it seemeth good in thy sight."

And it was your first trouble. How did you get over it? God comforted you. You have been a better man ever since. You have been a better woman ever since. In the jar of the closing gate of the sepulcher you heard the clanging of the opening gate of heaven, and you felt an irresistible drawing heavenward. You have been purer of mind ever since that night when the little one for the last time put its arms around your neck and said: "Good night, papa; good night, mamma. Meet me in heaven!"

But I must come down to your latest sorrow. What was it? Perhaps it was your own sickness. The child's tread on the stair or the tick of the watch on the stand disturbed you. Through the long, weary days you counted the figures in the carpet or the flowers in the wall-paper. Oh, the weariness, the exhaustion! Oh, the burning pangs! Would God it were morning, would God it were night, were your frequent cry. But you are better, or perhaps even well. Have you thanked that God to-day you can come out in the fresh air; that you are in this place to hear God's name, and to sing God's praise, and to implore God's help, and to ask God's forgoveness? Bless the Lord who healeth all diseases, and redeemeth our lives from destruction.

Perhaps your last sorrow was a financial embarrassment. I congratulate some of you on your lucrative profession or occupation, on ornate apparel, on a commodious residence—everything you put your hands to seems to turn to gold. But there are others of you who are like the ship on which Paul sailed, where two seas met, and you are broken by the violence of the waves. By an unadvised indorsement, or by a conjunction of unforeseen events, or by fire, or storm, or a senseless panic, you have been flung headlong, and where you once dispensed great charities, now you have hard work to make the two ends meet.

Have you forgotten to thank God for your days of prosperity, and that through your trials some of you have made investments which will continue after the last bank of this world has exploded, and the silver and gold are molten in the fires of a burning world? Have you, amid all your losses and discouragements, forgot that there was bread on your table this morning, and that there shall be shelter for your head from the storm, and there is air for your lungs, and blood for your heart, and light for your eye, and a glad and glorious and triumphant religion for your soul?

Perhaps your last trouble was a bereavement. That heart which in childhood was your refuge, the parental heart, and which has been a source of the quickest sympathy ever since, has suddenly become silent forever, and now sometimes whenever in sudden annoyance and without deliberation you say "I will go and tell mother," the thought flashes on you, "I have no mother;" or the father, with voice less tender, but as stanch and earnest and loving as ever, watchful of all your ways, exultant over your success without saying much, although the old people do talk it over by themselves, his trembling hand on that staff which you now keep as a family relic, his memory embalmed in grateful hearts, is taken away forever.

Or, there was your companion in life, sharer of your joys and sorrows, taken, leaving the heart an old ruin, where the chill winds blow over a wide wilderness of desolation, the sand of the desert driving across the place which once bloomed like the garden of God. And Abraham mourns for Sarah at the cave of Machpelah. Going along your path of life, suddenly, right before you, was an open grave. People looked down and they saw it was only a few feet deep and a few feet wide, but to you it was a cavern, down which went all your hopes and all your expectations.

But cheer up in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the comforter. He is not going to forsake you. Did the Lord take that child out of your arms? Why, he is going to shelter it better than you could. He is going to array it in a white robe, and with palm branches it will be all ready to greet you at your coming home. Blessed the broken heart that Jesus heals. Blessed the importunate cry that Jesus compassionates. Blessed the weeping eye from which the soft hand of Jesus wipes away the tear.

I was sailing down the St. John river, Canada, which is the Rhine and Hudson commingled in one scene of beauty and grandeur, and while I was on the deck of the steamer a gentleman pointed out to me the places of interest, and he said: "All this is interval land, and it is the richest land in all the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia."

"What," said I, "do you mean by interval land?" "Well," he said, "this land is submerged for a part of the year; spring freshets come down, and all these plains are overflowed with the water, and the water leaves a rich deposit, and when the waters are gone the harvest springs up, and there is the grandest harvest that was ever reaped." And I instantly thought: "It is not the heights of the church and it is not the heights of this world that is the scene of the greatest prosperity, but the soul over which the floods of sorrow have gone, the soul over which the freshets of tribulation have torn their way, that yields the greatest fruits of righteousness, and the largest harvest for time, and the richest harvest for eternity." Bless God that our soul is interval land.

But these reminiscences reach only to this morning. There will yet be one more point of tremendous reminiscence, and that is the last hour of life, when we have to look over all our past existence. What a moment that will be! I place Napoleon's dying reminiscence on St. Helena beside Mrs. Judson's dying reminiscence in the harbor of the same island, twenty years after. Napoleon's dying reminiscence was one of delirium—"Head of the army." Mrs. Judson's dying reminiscence, as she came home from her missionary toil and her life of self-sacrifice for God, dying in the cabin of the ship in the harbor of St Helena, was: "I always did love the Lord Jesus Christ." And then, the historian says, she fell into a sound sleep for an hour, and woke amid the songs of angels.

I place the dying reminiscence of Augustus Cæsar against the dying reminiscence of the Apostle Paul. The dying reminiscence of Augustus Cæsar was, addressing his attendants: "Have I played my part well on the stage of life?" And they answered in the affirmative, and he said: "Why don't you applaud me?" The dying reminiscence of Paul the Apostle was: "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me in that day; and not to me only, but to all them that love his appearing." Augustus Cæsar died amid pomp and great surroundings. Paul uttered his last reminiscence looking up through the wall of a dungeon. God grant that our last hour may be the closing of a useful life and the opening of a glorious eternity.

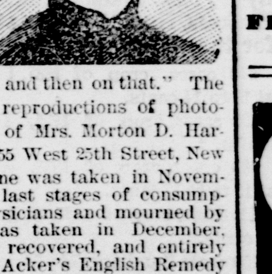
THE STORY OF A YEAR.

PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE TAKEN ONE YEAR AGO.



PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE AS SHE NOW APPEARS.

The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption which, if neglected, are sure to result fatally. Dr. Acker's English Remedy has cured more than one thousand persons unquestionably had consumption and were given up by their friends. It merits its popularity and is sold by reputable druggists in every city and town in America. You can't afford to be without it.

"Look on this picture and then on that." The above faces are exact reproductions of photographs taken from life of Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, who resides at No. 55 West 25th Street, New York City. The first one was taken in November, 1887, while in the last stages of consumption, abandoned by physicians and mourned by friends. The other was taken in December, 1888, when completely recovered, and entirely through the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. The above pictures are wood cuts, but they are true to life and the original photographs, taken from life, can be seen at all the drug stores. Mrs. Harlan's consumption began as consumption usually does, with a cough in the morning, raising of phlegm, tired and depressed feelings, a lack of appetite, the loss of flesh and pains throughout the body. She did not realize her extreme danger until it became almost too late, but she is in perfect health to-day. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is sold by all reputable druggists. You can't afford to be without it.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine-tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors.

GEORGE LEE IS ON THE RACK.

The second trial of George Lee for an alleged assault upon thirteen-year-old Hattie Maltby, was begun before Judge Bennett to-day. The defendant appeared in person, and by Attorneys F. M. Scanlan and T. J. Brooks. District Attorney B. M. Malone appeared for the state.

After considerable deliberation a jury was empannelled consisting of George Ehrlinger, Jr. J. E. Gleason, Herrick Bartlett, Miles Rice, William Drummond, Martin Halverson, N. N. Palmer, L. M. Perkins, J. C. Scott, J. L. Page, J. S. Lynch and C. C. Howard.

The defendant herself, a girl of prepossessing appearance, was the first witness on the stand and gave her testimony in a straightforward way. The case will occupy considerable time.

Charles A. Stewart's trial was begun this morning and a jury sworn. After the testimony of Mrs. Jennie Van Tassel had been taken on the part of the state, the defendant's attorney asked that the plea of not guilty might be withdrawn and a plea of guilty entered. Permission was given and Stewart pleaded guilty to the charge of adultery preferred.

The case of Welch vs. Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has been set for May. 14.

PLAYING WITH WORDS.

THE ANSWER TO THE LITTLE WORD PUZZLE PUBLISHED LAST FRIDAY.

The following is the correct answer to the little "play with words" published in the Gazette on Friday of last week. The words to be inserted are here published with the numbers corresponding to the numbers published on Friday:

"1. James. 2. Helena. 3. Start. 4. Cashmere. 5. Toulon. 6. Milan. 7. Tour. 8. Hush. 9. Worms. 10. Lucknow. 11. Lizard. 12. Thunder. 13. Wrath. 14. Papa. 15. Nankin. 16. Toulouse. 17. Boyle. 18. Nice. 19. Agen. 20. Oyster. 21 Turkey. 22. Tongue. 23. Birds. 24. Sandwich. 25. Sheep. 26. Spice 27. Cocos (cocoa.) 28. Snow. 29. Madeira. 30. Orange. 31. Candy. 32. Cook. 33. Negro. 34. Table. 35. Peel. 36. Havre. 37. Tullon (too long). 38. Eyre (ire). 39. Disappointment. 40. Farewell.

When placed correctly the article will read:—

"Once upon a time James went courting Helena. One pleasant day in June they made a Start to go fishing. The young lady was dressed in Cashmere, which was also Toulon (too long), and on her head was a Milan hat. They took a Tour through the woods, and after saying Hush a great many times, they baited their hooks with Worms and waited for a nibble. They seemed to have no Lucknow and presently a Lizard crawls along the bank, and caused the young lady to flee. Soon Thunder was distinctly heard, and the rain began. They hurried home, but not soon enough to escape the Wrath which seized her Papa, who was dressed in Nankin, which was also Toulose and who had a Boyle on his nose. This made the young man feel anything but Nice. The old gentleman got in good humor soon, however, and when dinner was announced, smiled Agen. The bill of fare was rather extensive, including Oyster roast, Turkey boiled, Tongue pressed, Birds, Sandwich, roast Sheep and pickles. For desert they had Spice cake, Cocos (cocoa) cake Snow pudding, Madepira wine, Orange fruit, and Candy. The Cook was a Negro. In moving from the Table the old gentleman stepped on a Peel and fell down. When the young man asked to Havre, the old gentleman told him he was Toulon (too long). This raised the young man's Eyre (ire), but concealing his Disappointment he said Farewell.

BREAKING THE SABBATH.

THE SUBJECT PLAINLY SPOKEN OF BY THE REV. DR. HODGE YESTERDAY.

"It is very convenient, I know, to bundle up many of the religious observances of our fathers; label them Puritannical, and toss them on a top shelf. Very convenient, undoubtedly; but what if, on the day of accounting, that bundle be taken down and found to contain some of God's greatest laws. Blue laws may be laughed at, but they are far betterthan black laws."

Thus spoke the Rev. Dr. Hodge at the Baptist church yesterday. His sermon was one suggested by the increasing number of Sunday excursions and entertainments, and had for its subject, "Sunpay Desecration." The subject was forcefully handled. Especial stress was laid upon the influence exerted by Sabbath breaking on the conscience in other moral matters. Sins go in groups and arm in arm with Sabbath breaking go intemperance and other immoralities not necessary to mention. The continental Sabbath, as it is called, is making its way into the country rapidly; and has shown itself to be a wave of darkness. Every voice should be raised in protest. If there is need of one day of relaxation each week let it be some other day besides Sunday. Why recognize man's claim on six days of the week and disregard God's claim on the seventh? There is rest in a change, and no good can come of neglecting Sunday observances for the pleasures of the crowded excursion train or steamer.

The sermon was listened to by an audience of unusual proportions, the number of young people being especially large.

A DAY'S WORK FOR THE FIREMEN

Johnstown Farmers Suffer Heavily From Fire Yesterday Afternoon.

Three thousand dollars damage was done by flames near Johnstown yesterday afternoon. The fire broke out about half past two. Before they were subdued they had destroyed the house and barn of H. C. Nickerson, the house and barn of John Pritt, and the tobacco warehouse of N. C. Hurlbut.

Mr. Nickerson was insurerd for seven hundred dollars in the Continental Insurance Co., represented by Silas Hayner. Mr. Pritt was also insured, but neither in his case, nor in that of Mr. Nickerson will the insurance cover the loss. The two losses will amount to about two thousand dollars.

On Mr. Hurlbut's property there was no insurance, and the loss is total. A brisk wind was blowing when the fire was discovered, otherwise the warehouse, which is across the road from the other buildings would not have suffered.

IN TURTLE.

At one o'clock this afternoon the house and barns belonging to Mr. John Milner, residing on the south side of Turtle creek, two miles east of Shopiere, were destroyed by fire. No particulars received.

TWO LOCAL CALLS.

An alarm of fire from box 12, located at the corner of Mineral Point avenue and Weshington street, at four o'clock this morning, called the fire department to 205 Chatham street, a little barn belonging to Wm. Farmer being on fire. The little structure was nearly destroyed when first discovered, and the fire department only had to extinguish the ruins. The loss will not be over ten or fifteen dollars—no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown, although an ash heap was in close proximity, and a lot of loose straw was scattered between the ashes and the barn, from which it might haye caught. A mule and a lot of chickens were in the barn, but all were rescued.

At 8:55 o'clock this forenoon smoke was discovered issuing from the Ogden block, on East Milwaukee street, opposite the Myers house, and an alarm was turned in from box 28, located at No. 2 engine house. The department responded quickly and had two lines of hose laid in a couple of minutes ready for orders. Chief Engineer Blunk made a hurried and careful inspection of the building, but could find no fire, consequently no water was put into the building. The basement was filled with smoke caused by poor draught of one of the chimneys. The department was ordered home, and the large crowd of people congregated in the street dispersed.

The smoke was from one of the chimneys, a fire having been started in a stove on one of the lower floors while several openings in the chimney on the upper floors were left open. There being no draft, the smoke filled the basement, and caused the alarm to be given. So says Mr. Wilcox, the owner of the building.

WILL REORGANIZE AT ONCE.

WHAT WAS DONE AT THE MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY.

At the meeting of the First Presbyterian Society yesterday it was decided to reorganize at once under chapter 91 of the Revised Statutes. A report favoring reorganization was made by J. G. Rexford, of the committee appointed in June, 1888. J. G. Rexford, Dr. L. J. Barrows, J. B. Hume, Robert Airis and M. H. Soverhill were appointed a committee to effect a reorganization by filing the necessary certificate. It was ordered that by-laws be prepared and that the name of the society remain unchanged. A meeting will be held three weeks from yesterday to hear the committee's report and to elect two elders. After the morning service yesterday an outline of the work of the Presbyterian church for the yerr ending March 31, 1889, was read by the pastor. The substance of it was in brief as follows:

Amounts raised and appropriated to various benevolent objects	$533 15
Added to building fund	434 26
Congregational expenditures	1,638 62
Total	$2,606 03

Of this sum the Ladies Aid society contributed $314.74; the Young Ladies Missionary society and Mission Band, $146.05; Rolston estate by the heirs, $150; the Sabbath school, $288.19; church and congregation, $1707.05.

During the year seven members have been dismissed to other churches. Five have died as follows:

1888, April 22, Mrs. Jane Nisbit.
1888, May 13, Mrs. Jessie Totten Cleland
1888, June 8, Mrs. S. A. Rolston.
1888, Dec. 17, Miss Carrie Zunkel.
1889, March 18, Mrs. F. S. Lawrence.

During the same year there have been added to the church, ten by letter and eighteen on profession, making a tota of twenty-eight and making the present membership 210.

"Conspiracies no sooner should be formed than executed," and a cold should no sooner be taken, than a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup should be bought and used according to the directions.

"Diseases, desperate grown, by desperate appliances are relieved, or not at all," The point of wisdom is to check them before they reach so far by buying a bottle of Salvation oil. Price 25 cents.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

OBITUARY.

MRS. CHRISTEEN DAY.

Another of the early settlers has passed to her heavenly reward. Sunday morning at two o'clock, Mrs. Christeen Day, relict of the late Jeremiah Day. died, aged 83 years. Mrs. Day had been in feeble health for some months, and on Wednesday evening she fell from her bed breaking one of of her legs at the hip, which so shocked her nervous system that death ensued as above.

Mrs. Day was one of the early settlers in Janesville, residing for many years on "The Island," and notwithstanding her extreme age, she had many friends who will express heartfelt sympathy at her death. She leaves a family of seven children. The funeral took place at two o'clock this afternoon from her home 215 North Bluff street, the services being conducted by the Rev. G. H. Trever, of Court Street M. E. church. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. A. H. Louck, A. Phelps, Geo. Hield, Jas. Van Sycklen, Dr. S. H. Gisb, Wm Hayner. The song service was rendered by friends of the church.

JOHN W. LASKOWSKE.

Mr. John W. Laskowske, for many years one of Janesville's live business young men, died at the home of his parents on Hickory street, second ward at 8:15 o'clock this morning of consumption, aged 30 years.

For several years deceased was in the employ of the McKey Brothers as superintendent of their general store at Monterey, after which he was a member of the grocery firm of Brace & Laskowske, East Milwaukee street. While in the employ of McKey & Bros. he contracted a cold which terminated in consumption. His health being very poor, some three years ago he went to Missouri and Kansas in the hope of conquering his disease by the change in climate, but gradually grew worse. He returned home about two months ago, since which time the encroachments of the disease made quick and sure inroads upon his life, conquering after a patient and long-suffering seige. He was unmarried. The family will receive the heart-felt sympathy of many friends in their hour of sorrow.

The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

DAVID MEEHAN.

Death came yesterday afternoon to the sick bed of David Meehan, of the village of Footville, bringing rest after two years of constant suffering. For years Mr. Meehan was a well known resident of this city. Twenty-five years ago he removed to Footville and since that time has made that village his home. He was nearing his seventieth year, and his advanced age had much to do with hastening the end.

Funeral services will be held at the Footville church to-morrow morning, and the remains will be interred at Mount Olivet.

Mr. Payne will return here the latter part of the week, will remain here several days and will again occupy the pulpit next Sunday. His address yesterday is highly spoken of by those who heard it, and it is not improbable that he may be called as permanent pastor.

WAS DR. CRONIN MURDERED?

A Well Known Irish Leader, Dr. P. H. Cronin, Mysteriously Disappears.

A sensation was caused in this city this morning by rumors of the murder, in Chicago, of Dr. P. H. Cronin. Dr. Cronin is well known in this city, his last visit being on the occasion of the Hibernian celebration, February 22d. At that time he renewed an acquaintance among the Irish nationalists of the city that has been an extended one for years, and the reports of his death to-day awakened anxiety on all hands.

Dr. Cronin, who was a leader in one of the Chicago factions of Irish nationalists, disappeared Saturday night under circumstances that lead to suspicion that he had been foully dealt with. Late dispatches state that no definite facts have been ascertained, but that the probability that Dr. Cronin has been assassinated is so strong as to preclude almost all doubt upon the subject.

Dr. Cronin resided in a flat at No. 470 North Clark street. About 7:15 Saturday evening he was called out by a man who said the doctor was wanted to attend a man in an icehouse at Lake View who had been run over and was badly injured.

The doctor then accompanied his caller, the two men driving north rapidly in a buggy. Dr. Cronin not having returned to his home during Sunday, and a message to the ice-house revealing the fact that no one from there had sent for him, his friends fearing that some accident had befallen him or that he had met with foul play, reported the matter to Capt. Schaack, at the East Chicago avenue station, who immediately set officers to work upon the case, but so far nothing has been developed in the case which tends to throw any light upon it.

One thing which points very strongly to the murder theory is the finding Sunday morning of a trunk on Sulzer road in Lake View. The interior of the trunk was smeared with blood, the lid was broken off, and on the bottom lay a large bundle of cotton partially soaked in blood. A number of twigs and leaves which had evidently adhered to the body which had been placed in the trunk were lying around loosely and stuck to the cotton in various places. The trunk was perfectly new, of light buff color, and amply large enough to accommodate the body of a man. On the under side of the lid were a number of mud stains, which had evidently been made by the pressure of a body against them. The handles of the trunk were also smeared with blood.

Capt. Villiers at once had the trunk conveyed to the police station and made a close and careful examination of it. Sticking to the bottom of the trunk, near the spot which very strongly resembled the imprint of a human head, he found a small quantity of black hair, which he afterward submitted to several, who unhesitatingly pronounced it that of Dr. Cronin, or so very similar to it as to make a most startling resemblance.

At the time the trunk was found the blood was still wet, showing that it could have been there but a short time. Close up to the place where the trunk was found was the track of a wagon, which had been driven slightly out of the roadway. Capt. Villiers is confident that the body of Dr. Cronin was packed in the trunk, his theory being that he was murdered in the woods and toward morning the body was thrust in the trunk to be conveyed away, and the murderers had chosen this spot in which to remove the body from the trunk. It had evidently been removed in a great hurry, as the lock had been pried off and the lid of the trunk torn off by main force.

According to Capt. Villiers the trunk could not ha[illegible] subject for a medical college, as the blood was too fresh."

TO HELP THE IRISH POOR.

Boston Men Will Build Factories Where Evicted Tenants May Be Employed.

BOSTON, Mass., May 6.—A number of prominent citizens of Boston, who have for a long time been considering the question of how best to go to work to practically and lastingly benefit the poor evicted tenants in Ireland, have united upon a plan for carrying out their purpose. The full details cannot be given out yet, but they will probably be developed in the course of a few weeks. They feel that the hope of accomplishing anything lies in the possibility of getting the farmless people interested in some kind of industrial pursuit. The idea is to establish in one of the poorest districts a factory in which evicted tenants could find employment. It is proposed, therefore, to incorporate a stock company, selling shares in all parts of the United States where are natives of Ireland or friends of Ireland's cause to buy them. The men who are promoting the scheme recognize the fact that the only way for them to attain success in it is to show their personal interest by going across and getting the factory fairly started. There would be no filibusters in the party and it would be guaranteed that there would be no molestation of English management of the unfortunate island's affairs. As soon as the plans are perfected, however, they will be submitted to Messrs. Parnell, Davitt, and O'Brien for approval. It is proposed to manufacture boots, shoes, clothing, and underwear.

AN INSPECTION TOUR.

Secretary Proctor and Staff Looking Over Western Military Posts.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Secretary of War Redfield Proctor and suite arrived in the city Sunday noon. The party consists of Mr. Proctor, Adjt-Gen. R. C. Drum, and F. C. Partridge. They came to meet Gens. Schofield, Crook, and Williams, and the entire party left Monday to make an inspection of the military posts in the West.

"It is my first visit of inspection," said Mr. Proctor, "and it is Gen. Drum's last, as he will retire from the army this month. The inspection is merely a formal one. We go from here to Rock Island, where we will inspect the arsenal. From there we go to Leavenworth, Fort Riley, Denver, Cheyenne, Omaha, and St. Paul. On our return we will visit Fort Sheridan. There is no other object in our meeting with Gen. Schofield.

The party is accompanied on the trip West by Col. Barr, Secretary Proctor's military secretary, and Lieuts. Bliss and Schofield, aids to Gen. Schofield.

WHEAT STEAL DEVELOPMENTS.

Conspirators in the Famous Minneapolis Case Being Closed in Upon.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 6.—Mason has turned state's evidence, and the meshes of the law are slowly and surely entangling the conspirators in the great wheat steal. It begins to look as if they would all be brought to justice. Holcomb and Harley are under first. Mason has told his story to the prosecution, and everything points toward D. C. Moak & Co., as the quarter in which the next developments may be looked for. Harry S. Holcomb, who was superintendent of the Union Elevator company at the time of the steal and was arrested in Omaha, will arrive in Minneapolis to-night.

ALBANY.

—Mr. William Francis, a resident of Albany township since 1855, died on Thursday, May 2d, from old age, having survived ninety-one years minus one day. Deceased was a native of Wales, England. He removed to this country in the year 1855 and ranked among the early settlers who took up homes in the eastern section of Green county. A man of exemplary habits, a zealous believer in and advocate of the teachings of Christ, he was highly esteemed as a neighbor and citizen during all the years of his sojourn among us. The funeral which was largely attended, took place on Saturday. 4th inst. at the Union church in the Welch settlement three miles northeast of this village where he had resided. Rev. Robert N. Martin conducted the services. In the cemetery near by the remains were consigned to a place of rest beside the companion whom he had survived about fifteen years.

—Miss Mary Usher, of Brodhead, visited with her sister, Mrs. H. B. Jobes the past week.

—Dr. L. A. Nichols and wife returned home Saturday from a trip to Chicago, and a vist with relatives in Janesville.

—W. H. Knapp has purchased of Wm. Hudson, the house he has occupied since residing here, for $900.

—Mr. Matthew West, of Sylvester, had his leg amputated just above the ankle on Thursday last, resulting from a severe fracture sustained some time ago. Dr Palmer, of Janesville, performed the operation. Mr. West was doing well at last account.

—Walter Caradine has downed the old school building that once crowned the hill on the east side of the river and will convert the material into a snug barn to be erected on his farm. The removal of the old will enhance the view of the new school edifice occupying adjacent grounds to the east.

—The newly organized lodge, Knights of Pythias held their first meeting on Monday evening.

—Farmers will crowd corn planting this week. The sign is right—the oak leaf is as big as a squirrel's ear, or will be before the corn is all planted.

—A reorganization of the Albany Cornet Band was effected the past week, with A. W. Bliss, general manager, H. C. Atherton leader.

—Tuesday's election will decide whether Albany shall remain a strictly temperance town for another year. There are those in every community who hold to the delusion that it is better to legalize dram selling, because, they say, just so much liquor will be drank any way and we might just as well have the money from licenses to lay out in improvements in our own town. It will help trade. Yes, the liquor venders will be increased, more paupers, more loafers and less money per capita when the gin mills are allowed to grind.

—Mrs. Julia A. Goodwin purchased of Mrs. Julia A. Nichols the old Baxter cottage, paying therefor $550.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tompkins contemplate taking a trip to Ireland the first of next month, and will spend the summer visiting relatives in the green isle.

A LUCKY HIT.

HOW TEN MEN CHIPPED IN AND HIT THE CAPITAL PRIZE.

Last Monday morning, paymaster Randolph of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, called at the Continental Bank and collected $15,000, one-twentieth of the capital prize in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. The number of the ticket was 2,887. A couple of weeks before the drawing came off, the employees of the 'Frisco road chipped in 10 cents each and purchased the one-twentieth ticket which drew the capital prize, $300,000. The lucky ones were A. D. Masters, chief dispatcher; J. L. Toomy, Mark Waters, George Wherry and Robert Gregg, freight conductors; W. D. Keyes a dispatcher; Dan Mahoney and J. B. Shelden, brakemen; J. P. Eddy, foreman of the roundhouse, and A. Veech, division superintendent. Mr. Randolph says the boys were very glad last Monday when he gave them each $1,500. "They all planted it down in their pockets, and said that they would hold on to it, Some of them were a little rattled over handling so much money at once, and think it all their own, but since they have received it they have not missed a day's work. Mosts of the boys are married and the money came in handy. There are a few of them talking of joining a building association of some kind too. They may try the scheme this next drawidg, for there is some talk to that effect.' —St. Louis, (Mo.) Star Saying's March 25.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non irritating. The medical profession has been slow, to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

THERE IS NO ONE ARTICLE IN THE LINE of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed Belladonna Backache Plasters.

What Is It?

Mr. Barnum ought to go down to Arlington, Mass., and look at Frank Nichols' horse. It was raised on Cape Cod, is red in color, and weighs 600 pounds. A description of the beast reads thus: "It resembles a cow when looked at from one direction, a mule from another, has the tail of a mule, but not the ears, and no mane, except a ridge of curly white hair. Its body is covered with a short, wooly substance.
